Breathtaking Alpine Golf (SUI/AUT)

It's hard to imagine traveling all the way to Switzerland for the opportunity to play a Pete Dye golf course, but Domaine Impérial near Geneva, 12 years in the making, has been the number-one course in Switzerland since it opened in 1987. Additionally, Golf Club Crans-sur-Sierre features the picture-postcard Swiss Alps views you would expect in this part of the world.

Austria is much more than The Sound of Music and lederhosen, offering the breathtaking Golfclub Adamstal, with numerous views of fairways routed between huge mountains. Fontana Golf Club is an American-style luxury housing development course, and Golf Eichenheim near Kitzbühel is a fantastic modern design set in traditional Alpine terrain.

GRITTYGOLFGUIDE
A Dyeabolical Experience

Inquiries: info@grittygolfguide.com | www.grittygolfguide.com